The Beautiful Cypress.
Of all the trees in America the cypress is in summer the most beautiful. Ever fresh and green, its tiny leaflets resemble the choicest ferns. Young, it is a thing of charm; older, it is inspiring and interesting; mature, it becomes majestic, towering, with a long, straight, thick trunk, which makes the best of durable lumber. It is a tree of rapid growth. It is hardy anywhere in the corn belt, and southward it has no insect enemies or diseases. A man could plant a cypress tree in his lawn, enjoy its wonderful presence during his life, and his son might cut it and with the proceeds send the grandson to college for a year. What other tree will afford shade, add beauty and make fine lumber at the same time?

Cypress trees transplant easily, though they should be mulched the first year and looked after occasionally. Once established, they are able to forage for themselves. Cypress leaves have been found unchanged in blocks of coal deep down in the earth.—Breeder's Gazette.

THOUGHTS ON HISTORY.

History makes haste to record great deeds, but often neglects good ones.—Hosea Ballou.

Truth comes to us from the past, as gold is washed down from the mountains, in minute but precious particles and intermixed with infinite alloy, the debris of centuries.—Bovee.

Historians are as perfect as the historian is wise and is gifted with an eye and a soul.—Carlyle.

They who lived in history only seemed to walk the earth again.—Longfellow.

I have read somewhere or other that history is philosophy teaching by example.—H. St. John.

Among the old relics in the Salmon picture store is an old mahogany book case, with sliding doors. It was brought from Ireland to this country 100 years ago. It is well worth going to see as there is not another like it in this part of the country.

CHAPIN LEONARD DEAD.

Chapin Leonard, a lifelong and much-respected citizen of Glover died at his home Sunday, August 8th, at the age of 78 years. He is survived by his wife and eldest son, Willard. Mr. Leonard has been town treasurer of Glover for 35 years and has held the position of town clerk for 32 years. He was a man of strict integrity, charitable, genial and kind towards his fellow man. All his life he has lived on the old home farm on which he was born and where he will be greatly missed as he also will in the community.
